Twenty on Local Relief Roll Are Given Employment

CWA Opens Registration Agency in Hardt Bldg. Mastne Is Supt.

Twenty men in Antioch township were taken off the Emergency Relief Roll and given employment starting Monday morning on a County project of repairing the Grass Lake road, according to Supervisor William A. Rosing. The work includes building fences, cleaning ditches, sloping and grading the road. It is expected to last until April 1, 1934.

The order came to Mr. Rosing through the Waukegan Emergency Relief Association in response to a state order, after Mr. Rosing had notified the state department that the Antioch Relief funds had been exhausted. The removal of the twenty men on the relief rolls eligible for employment, will greatly lessen the local road burden.

CWA Opens Agency Here

The Civil Works Administration, with Frank Masne as supervisor for the local unit, opened an agency here Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Hardt building, Main Street, where unemployed from Antioch, Lake Villa, Millburn, and surrounding territory may register.

Over one hundred registered during the first two hours Tuesday, Mr. Masne reported. One hundred thirty-five, including 26 service men, were registered by one o'clock Wednesday.

The office will remain open from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. for ten days, after which all applications will be filed with the State CWA through the Waukegan office. There will be no job assignments until all applications are in and approved by the State. Although all possible speed is being taken, jobs probably will not be available before Dec. 16, according to Mr. Masne.

It is the responsibility of the villages to complete plans for employment projects, and to get applications to William F. Kirkham, chairman of the Lake county Illinois Emergency Relief, and who is in charge of the CWA.

Mr. Masne was appointed supervisor of the local relief at the central committee meeting held by John Keefe at Highland Park last Hardt building has been donated for use of the CWA by the owner, and office equipment by Charles Ackerman.

All who registered prior to last Wednesday noon must re-register, except men must show discharge papers.

Ten other stations were opened throughout the county Tuesday morning by Mrs. Fannie Brandstetter, superintendent of the Waukegan employment office. They are:

Waukegan, the Armory, on North County street, Ray McManaman, superintendent; Barrington, Pure Oil building, North High street, Cornelius Snyder, superintendent; Highland Park, Udel building, Central avenue, Joe Cabanag, superintendent; North Chicago, Killian building, Walter Rans, superintendent; Zion, First State Bank Building, Twenty-seventh and Sheridan road, William Scheve, superintendent; Libertyville, 527 North Milwaukee avenue, Ray Kennedy, superintendent; Wauconda, Heit's garage, Richard Donley, superintendent; Fox Lake, Nagle Lumber company, Robert Witt, superintendent; Highwood, basement Methodist church, Highwood avenue, William Russell, superintendent; Grayslake, Brandstetter's building, Mancel Wrightman, superintendent.

Federal Employees to Meet Friday

The next regular meeting of the National Federation of Federal Employees, Great Lakes Local No. 167, will be held in the staff room, Veterans Administration Hospital, North Chicago, Illinois, at 8 p.m. Friday, December 1, 1933.

It is expected that this will be a very interesting meeting as several matters of importance to Federal Employees will be brought up at that time.

GRAYSLAKE MAN SMASHES INTO RAY'S CAR-GREASING RACK

The car-greasing rack at Bert Ray's Sinclair station was unmercifully mounted and smashed about eleven o'clock Monday evening, when Taura Angly, 810 Center Street, Grayslake, came careening down Lake street in his car at a high rate of speed, according to reports, struck the sidewalk, leaped about twelve feet, and came to a stop on the greasing rack. With Angly was another man. The rack was considerably damaged, but the car received damages only to one wheel. The car was taken to the Oxford Garage for repairs.

Angly is manager of the Grayslake Hotel. It is said that he was intoxicated at the time of the mishap.

Release Channel Lake Suspect in Racine Bank Case

Companion Is Held in Kenosha on Robbery Charge of Arthur Holtorf

Albert Archempault, 38, of Channel Lake, arrested Friday as a suspect in the Racine robbery case, was released from the Waukegan jail Monday by Justice of the Peace Henry Wallenwein, after failure of the bank employee to identify him. According to Sheriff Lester Tiffany, Archempault is an associate of George "Bugs" Moran.

Morris Cohn, 37, Pettie Lake, a companion of Archempault, was arrested and sent to Kenosha Friday, on a robbery charge at the complaint of Arthur E. Holtorf, collector for a utility company, who stated that Cohn robbed him of $200. Although it was thought at first that he was an associate of George "Bugs" Moran.

It was said that Archempault was arrested because he was seen repairing a car similar to the one used in the robbery of the American Bank and Trust Co. of Racine, where $27,500 in loot was taken; a policeman and assistant cashier were shot, and the bank president kidnapped.

Thanksgiving—Then and Now

This year a Thanksgiving dinner, we are told, will cost about five dollars for eight people. That seems reasonable enough compared to prices of commodities a few years ago, when there was plenty of everything, including money with which the housewife made her purchases for the year's biggest feast.

But how about this year? True, there is plenty of everything, and very moderate prices prevail—but there is a scarcity of money, a scarcity never before known in history, which indicates that fewer Americans this year will celebrate the holiday in keeping with the American tradition of a well loaded table on Thanksgiving day.

Yet, without Americans this day will have much to be thankful for. A ray of hope is seen in increased employment, the wholesale resignations and discharges from government service those who are known to be aligned with the money-changers of Wall street, and the fact that the President's program to place money in the hands of the farmer and laborer has every indication of ultimate success.

One of the greatest crimes in history is the present day spectacle of people starving in a land of plenty. It will be recorded as such.

Wisconsin produces 61 per cent of the nation's cheese. Last year's Wisconsin production amounted to $6,000,000 pounds.

ADVERTISING CO. HELPS SEAL SALE

Limited Budget Handicaps Lake County T. B. Clinic

The donation of the use of ten bill boards by the General Outdoor Advertising Company to aid in the annual sale of Christmas Seals was announced this week by the Lake County Tuberculosis Association.

"Tuberculosis spreads in bad times," says the Association. "Congested living quarters, lack of proper food and clothing slowly undermines resistance."

At the last clinic held November 22, it was impossible to take care of the number of patients who reported for treatment, so the doctors and nurses had to ask some of the patients whose cases were not so urgent to put off coming except once in every two or three months, thus enabling the Clinic to take care of the most virulent cases first. It is not that all of these cases do not need examinations, but the limited budget again prevents the Association from being able to give this care to all.

Buy Christmas Seals and fight tuberculosis.

December 3 has been designated as Health Sunday throughout the nation and all the ministers have offered to cooperate with the Tuberculosis Association with some mention of the work being done.

MUCH ADO ABOUT MONEY

The problem of monetary standards—which in its latest stage is characterized by the start of the United States' vast gold-buying campaign—will unquestionably be brought further into the limelight when Congress meets again.

It has become apparent that the world's business cannot be operated wholly on gold. It may always be the backbone of money—but it cannot live up to the job of being the heart and the tissue and corpuses, too. It needs an ally. And silver, the poor man's gold, is eminently fitted for that position.

The monetization of silver, in the opinion of a great many economists, industrialists and agricultural authorities, would be a tremendous step, not only toward recovery, but toward achieving permanent stability. If that is true, the sooner it is achieved, the better.

AMERICANS NOT SO DUMB

A not wholly unjustified tradition has grown up both here and abroad, that European diplomats are pretty smooth stuff, and that American public men are so many babes in the woods when it comes to dealing with them. It's possible that that thought was in the mind of Russia's shrewd, experienced Litvinoff when he climbed the steps of the White House to confer with President Roosevelt over American-Russian recognition.

If so, Mr. Litvinoff soon became sadder and wiser. He found himself confronted by an excellent horse-trader with a Harvard accent to be sure, but a horse-trader nevertheless. Where M. Litvinoff has announced that so far as he was concerned, the negotiations could be concluded in half-an-hour, he found them extending on through the days.

Upshot was that the 16-year breach between the two major powers was ended, with the United States on the long end of the deal so far as most of its demands were concerned. Points of the treaty include:

Waiver by the Soviet of all claims growing out of the famous Siberian adventure of 1918; a guarantee against official Soviet propaganda in this country; another guarantee against the formation of any group designed to change the government of the United States; fair and prompt trials for Americans erring against Soviet law; guarantee of the free exercise of religious beliefs of Americans resident in Russia. Little mention is made of trade relations and details concerning them remain to be worked out.

this pitiful family. One of the small children dies and the report is sent to the nurse of the local tuberculosis sanatorium.

THE ANTOCH NEWS, ANTOCH, ILLINOIS

First Ambassador to present himself to steel-jawed, steel-eyed, steel-mannered Number 1 dictator of the world, Stalin, whose adopted name means Steel, will be William C. Bullitt, wealthy young Socialite, who has written a sophisticated novel satirizing Park Avenue, a popular song or two, and has been the State Department's Russian expert. One of Mr. Roosevelt's bright young men, he was instrumental in bringing about recognition and is considered an excellent choice.

WOMEN BUYERS AND ADVANCING PRICES

When it comes to selling most commodities, woman is the deciding factor. She manages the best of all markets, the American home. The Administration in its drive for higher prices, is faced with definite housewife protest against advancing costs.

The housewife speaks through the figures. Department store sales, based on dollar value and not volume, have fallen steadily. Mrs. American has become accustomed to bargains; when they disappeared she stopped buying. To offset this, the government is intensifying its campaign to get more money into the hands of the public.

As for business in general, the picture is so mixed as to be impossible to depict accurately. Some businesses are up; some are down; and some are pursuing a steady middle course. On the whole, industry is substantially better off than it was when the year opened, and heartening gains have been made in employment, wages, working hours, and in profits of may corporations. The dark spot in the picture still is the farm situation.

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT FOR YOU

This is the time of the year when most of us are thinking intently—and perhaps frantically—about the problem of Christmas gifts. And here's a good suggestion: Give a present to yourself; not for entirely selfish reasons, but in order to help those to whom Christmas this year might be just one more day.

The kind of a gift that will accomplish this purpose is one that provides employment and entails the purchase of basic commodities. And nothing fills the bill more completely than property construction and betterment. Give yourself a new furnace or a roof, or an electric kitchen or a garage or some new furniture. Better yet, if it's possible, give yourself a new home; you'll be getting it for next to nothing in comparison to what the best opinion forecasts it will cost in the near future, and you'll be spreading Christmas cheer among numerous families.

Your local contractor or dealer in building materials is competent to advise you. He can show you where you can make real savings—how you can make your dollars do Spartan duty. Talk it over with him. Think how much a wave of construction, even if on an individually small scale, would mean to the social and economic welfare of your community. And give yourself that Christmas present. You'll never regret it.

Mr. Whiteman is a considerate husband, helping him to withstand the rigors of his extremely strenuous existence.

Mrs. Whiteman, the former Margaret Livingstone, insists upon making Paul's muffins with her own hands. Below is a bran muffin recipe which has been appropriately named—

Jazz King's Muffins

2 tablespoons shortening 1 cup flour

1/2 cup sugar 1 teaspoon baking

1 egg (well beaten) 1/2 teaspoon salt

1 cup sour milk 1 cup bran

Cream the shortening and sugar, add egg and sour milk. Add bran and let soak until most of the moisture is taken up. Sift flour with baking powder, soda and salt and add to first mixture, stirring until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin tins two-thirds full and bake in a moderate oven (400° F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 6 large or 12 small muffins.

IMPROVED SUPER SHELL
Saves You 200 Extra Miles in Winter
—and Gives Quicker Starting

Here's real news for you motorists! Super Shell is improved again!

Some ordinary gasolines are overloaded for quick starting in cold weather, with light, gassy parts, which you like after your engine warms up, thereby reducing your mileage. Other ordinary gasolines are hard to start, and waste your fuel by excessive choking and, therefore, they, too, reduce your mileage.

The improved Super Shell, by Shell's new and exclusive reforming process, gives you quicker starting on the coldest day in winter, and saves for extra mileage, the gasoline you formerly wasted in starting. Try a tankful.

YOU SAVE MONEY
because you never gasoline, and the extra miles you get.

Use Improved Super Shell, and save your money.

LAST WINTER THIS BUS
ATE UP GAS — BUT I'M GETTING REAL MILEAGE
NOW I'VE CHANGED
TO SUPER SHELL

MANY NEW CUSTOMERS
ARE TELLING US THAT SIR.

TEN YEARS CHANGING TO SUPER SHELL. See Mr. Roscoe, Cleveland, shown above, thousands of motorists everywhere have changed to the improved Super Shell. All because Super Shell is the first gasoline to combine quick starting with full mileage. No need to be bothered with a hard-starting engine. Change to Super Shell — get the quickest starting you've ever known, plus longer mileage.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, also Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Described," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 25th.

The Golden Text was, "I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible" (Jere-15:21). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him. Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings that publisheth peace" (Isaiah 40:29).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Every mortal at some period, here or hereafter, must grapple with and overcome the mortal belief in a power opposed to God" (p. 593).

"A Friendly Church"

Church School 9:15.

We urge every scholar to be present on time so that we may begin promptly. Much valuable time is lost in delayed attendance, and the School has only 52 hours a year in which to put on one of the greatest programs ever advanced.

Morning Worship Service: 11:00.

The theme for the service will be: "Four Things Wrong." What can be done about them? We are endeavoring to make this service dignified, inspiring, and interesting. If you find it so tell your friends, and invite them to come, it not tell us in person or through a personal letter.

Epworth League Service: 7:00.

This is a service for young people, and is conducted by young people. It is their program, and they are enjoying the work. If you do not attend a young people's service on Sunday evening you are invited to meet with us. A friendly welcome awaits you.

Boy Scouts of America:

The Boy Scouts meet each Wednesday afternoon at 4:00. Every boy of twelve years of age should take advantage of this great boy's game. We are planning hikes; all-day, evening, and over night; skating meets, steak fries, and many other interesting things for the winter. Join now, dues 50 cents a year and five cents a week.

COMING: We are very fortunate to be able to secure the great movie picture, "Fabiola," which will be presented Thursday evening, Dec. 14. Admission free; offering to defray expenses.

How to Eat for Health and Beauty

Patricia Ellis, 16-year-old screen beauty, typifies the natural charm of healthy youth.

THE sub-deb's complexion problem is hardly a problem at all, for if she follows a healthful diet she can well ignore cosmetics and skin creams. Even such "special" skin troubles as pimples, which sometimes crop up to worry 10-year-olds, can, usually, be controlled by a diet abundant in fresh milk, cheese, butter milk, leafy vegetables, oranges and grapefruit, and low in rich pastries, candy and fried foods.

MINERALS AND CELLULOSE ARE COMPLEXION AIDSMILK CONTAINS MORE OF THE INDISPENSABLE LIME THAN OTHER FOODS

While much stress is given by manufacturers of "artificial" beauty aids to the importance of cream lotions, and beauty soaps in preserving a fine complexion, there's not so much propaganda about internal beauty aids.

External beauty aids do play a part in preserving a good complexion, but except in cases of excessively clogged pores, due to oil or dirt, they are not necessarily the original cause of a clear skin. That must come from inside.

Diet and elimination are the primary secrets of a good complexion. Most of us believe that fruits and vegetables are beauty aids—you've heard it said that carrots make the cheeks red and the eyes bright—but we've never known exactly why. One reason is that raw fruits and certain green vegetables contain cellulose, or roughage to induce elimination. The other is that they are possessed of minerals essential to good health.

Lime is Valuable Aid

Lime, or calcium, it is said, is the most important mineral in preserving the characteristics of youth. In comparison with other foods, even fruits and vegetables, milk contains this mineral in surprising abundance. A quart of milk daily will do as much as mounds of vegetables—important as they are—to provide the necessary lime to maintain good health.

Milk, you know, is the "perfect" food for babies. And what blooming complexions they have! Adults require more variety, particularly as regards roughage, but milk should continue to form a part of the diet.

Milk need not be taken "straight," but may be used to make a chocolate, egg-nog, custards, or jellies.

Natural elimination is greatly preferable to the artificial. Regularity is important in establishing a good natural movement, as well as certain laxative foods or drinks, such as water, most fruit juices and raw fruits, vegetables, beans. One little used by adults is molasses, corn syrup, or sorghum, but they are as excellent for adults as for adults as for adults as for babies.

Velvet Is Chosen
For Winter WeddingsIvory, Gold, or Rose Velvet Adds Classic Touch to Bridal Ensemble

Anyone intending to take the altar this winter doubtless has a quite detailed picture in her mind of her wedding attire. To be a representative bride of this season, velvet is the thing.

Velvet is so adaptable—much more now than formerly. We never used to hear about cream colored velvet, but what could be more attractive than a golden velvet wedding? The bridal gown could be of cream ivory velvet, and the bridesmaids in pale old gold, with chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

Something a trifle less classic, perhaps, but certainly appropriate would be a "study" in shades of rose pink, with the bride in white, with only a suggestion of pink in the decorations, and the bridesmaids in tea rose pink velvet, with matching roses a shade deeper than the bride.

If the bride-elect is going in for pink, there's a charming velvet model with lace fichu accentuating outline, and shoulder spangles of rose blossoms, and yards of tulles.

The newest headdresses are round and slanted this year.

Bridesmaids have their ensembles styled with velvet hats which are of the face, velvet gloves with cuffs, and velvet sandals.

Other details include huge bows on shoulders.

In all, it sounds smooth as doesn't it?

"Arkansas Planter"
Gives Glimpse of
Old Southern Life

There's something fetching about this book of Opie Read's "Arkansas Planter." It opens in a rather dimly lighted, and yet before he is aware of it, the reader finds himself in an Arkansas home, concerned with the problems of its owners.

There's the old colonel and his wife and two "grownup" children—the daughter who is causing them much worry by her insistence upon marrying a dying man, and the happy-go-lucky son. Besides, there are three or four other characters of interesting personalities.

There doesn't seem to be much plot to the story—it just rambles on with episodes from pre-Civil War days, with darkness as a changing background—now subservient and content, again turbulent and on the warpath.

A simple love interest is woven into the tale, but it doesn't form the major part of it—one is apt to wonder what, if any, is the "theme" of this story.

Help to Utilize Excess
Food by Canning, Pickling

BY WALTER W. McLAUGHLIN
Director, Illinois Department of Agriculture

ONE of the most deplorable things about the period we have just been going through is that food has been going to waste while people went hungry. One way to remedy this situation is for individuals to store away

Although fresh foods are usually considered superior to the canned in flavor, they are not always. To cite one example—peach pickle is a delicacy on any table. And if care is taken in the cooking process the canned foods will have approximately the same food value as the fresh.

Save the Vitamins.

In canning any one of these three foods—peaches, grapes or corn—care should be taken to avoid oxidation and over-cooking as this is destructive to the Vitamins A and C, one or both of which is present in good quantities in each of these foods and should not be lost.

Whether you are canning vegetables or fruits, be sure that you select fresh, firm products in excellent condition. Cleanliness is another item of paramount importance. In canning vegetables first scrub them thoroughly in running water if possible, then prepare them as for table use and cook them immediately. When completely heated to the boiling point, put in clean hot jars and seal tightly.

Not all vegetables are attractive when canned; corn is one of the comparatively few which is popular in canned form as well as when fresh. A can of corn is one of the most convenient things a housewife can have on hand, for by adding to it milk, cheese or eggs, she can create a complete meal in one dish.

Grape juice is one of the most attractive ways of conserving grapes.

Thanksgiving Left
Overs Can Be Used
In Shepherd's Pie

The day after Thanksgiving. The cupboard is bare of all save leftovers. Warmed over turkey, chicken, or roast, whichever graced the table yesterday, will do for a foundation for the meal, but what next?

There are mounds of cold mashed potatoes, but the family doesn't take to reheated mashed potatoes in a manner notably graceful. Still, it does seem a shame not to use them and start again with fresh potatoes. Why not try the following simple dish?

Shepherd's Pie

1 cup ground cooked meat
1 cup gravy or stock
1 1/2 cups cold mashed potatoes
1 tablespoon fat
1/4 teaspoon salt

Mix meat, gravy and salt. Arrange meat mixture and potatoes in alternate layers in buttered baking dish and bake. Have a layer of potatoes on top. Dot top with butter. Bake in a moderate oven about 100 degrees F.—about 15 minutes.

Usually there's no dressing left after a holiday dinner, but if there should be, add it to the pie for extra flavor.

GLASSES OF JELLY
TIED WITH RIBBON
ARE JAUNTY GIFTS

If a thing is neither useful nor beautiful, there is not much excuse for its existence. The same maxim might be applied to Christmas presents—if they are neither practical nor possessed of beauty, there's no reason for giving them.

The ideal gift, of course, combines both usefulness and beauty. Often an ordinary practical gift can be transformed with just a bit of care. For example:

If you intend to make up a basket for some family or friend containing little glasses of jelly, a bit of ribbon and crepe paper can change it into a perky, attractive gift.

The paraffin cover on jelly glasses is often hard to remove. Pour a small amount of paraffin on the jelly and then lay a clean string—or for gift purposes—a bright ribbon across the glass before pouring on the rest of the paraffin. The string extends across the edges of the glass and is easily grasped when removing the paraffin.

With this gay ribbon or string, one can securely tie a cheery Christmas wrapper about the glass.

Consumers in this country in 1932 paid $1,656,000,000 for meat produced in this country. The farmers got only $721,000,000 of this amount.

to Make Less Expensive Cuts Attractive
Dinner Offerings

A PROMINENT meat packer told me recently that the depression had done for the meat industry what years of educational effort and thousands of dollars had failed to do. It had taught the American housewife that there was something to a cow besides a sirloin or tenderloin steak.

What to do with the less expensive cuts of meat is no longer a problem, he said. "Woman has learned that they can save considerable money by using these cuts especially when the meat is not too fat."

The meat industry, through bulletin after bulletin, has been telling the housewife that there are many cuts of meat that are just as tasty as the higher priced ones, if properly seasoned.

The secret, however, is in the type of seasoning used and the way they are blended to create a harmonious whole.

With a good, well-blended, standard seasoning, the meat can be made to taste as good as the higher priced ones.

SCHMITZ VERDICT

other statements accusing Sorenson of making threats of burning the house, and shooting them, but Sorenson produced witnesses to deny point for point the evidence brought against them.

Members of the Schmitz family also testified that after the shooting

Sorenson threatened them not to press the matter, but Theodore Schmitz, Sr., admitted that Elmer Sorenson had explained later that he had been drinking at the time the threat was made, and that they shook hands.

Coroner Taylor and State's Attorney Charles Mason said that the Schmitz family had been pressuring them to conduct an investigation into the shooting ever since the gun with the broken firing pin had been examined. Therefore, they reopened the inquest to give both sides a fair chance to produce evidence, but said that they can do no more now, having insufficient grounds for further investigation. Attorney Earl K. Cook represented the Schmitz family at the inquest.

The same jury that met three years ago was selected to consider the evidence Monday. They are: Chase Webb, foreman, Richard Allner, Frank Dibble, John Shibley, Walter Chinn, and Adolf Pease, Jr.

Carbon Monoxide Gas
Fatalities IncreaseDeaths Quadrupled in 8
Years; Early Winter Months Worst

Chicago, Nov. 28—(Special)—The occurrence of several carbon monoxide deaths already this fall and reports from Washington that such fatalities took an alarming turn upward last year has led the National Safety Council to issue a nation-wide warning against this dread killer.

"The first prolonged cold snap of winter always brings with it an abnormally high toll of fatalities caused by carbon monoxide gas poisoning," the Council declared. "This mysterious death-dealer strikes with little or no warning in the garage, on the highway, in the home and elsewhere."

"Tragic cases reported in the newspapers are apparently the only effective warnings. Motorists apparently forget all about this peril from one winter to the next. As winter wears on, they seem to be more careful to keep the garage windows and doors open when running their motors. It is unfortunate that scores of lives must be sacrificed each year before the lesson is sufficiently impressed on other motorists."

Death Increase 400 Per Cent

Safety Council figures, corroborated by U. S. Census Bureau data, indicate that carbon monoxide deaths are increasing out of all proportion to other forms of accidental death. From a total of 123 deaths from this cause in 1924 the figures went to 487 in 1931. In 1932 the toll jumped nearly 25 per cent in a single year to 608, and represented an eighty-five increase of nearly 400 per cent. This increase is especially striking when it is remembered that accidental deaths from all causes decreased nearly ten per cent last year from the 1931 figure.

Carbon monoxide gas takes its heaviest toll in residence garages. The fact that it is odorless, tasteless and invisible makes it especially insidious. The motorist goes into his garage on a cold morning and, finding the motor cold, he proceeds to run the engine in the closed building until it warms up, unmindful of the fact that the purring motor may be breathing his requiem. When no fresh air is present a running motor will generate a sufficient amount of the gas to kill within a few minutes. The driver usually succumbs before he is even aware of his peril.

Records show that many of the carbon monoxide fatalities occur on the highways when the exhaust pipe becomes choked and the gas seeps up into the tightly closed car or cab in cold weather. This hazard, of course, has become more prevalent in recent years since the vast majority of automobiles are now of the closed type. Several cases were reported last winter in which two, three and even four members of a family succumbed to the gas while the car was traveling along the highway.

Fresh Air is Preventive

Other deaths occur from operating gas appliances, stoves, furnaces and other heating devices which have become defective and are being used in poorly ventilated homes.

The arch-enemy of carbon monoxide gas is fresh air. Plenty of it in the garage, in the closed car and in the home will eliminate the hazard. Scores of fatalities are averted each year, according to the Council, by the prompt and proper application of the Schaefer method of prone pressure resuscitation. The victim should be removed to fresh air im-brick house which was burned down not many years since. The property is now owned by one of the Lehmanns.

"If my memory serves me right, the first teacher was Miss Charlotte Stanford whose parents lived down at Avery's corners, now known as Monaville. The property is now owned by one of the Barnabases. The next teacher was Miss Nancy Marsh, daughter of Fellig Marsh, and I believe the third teacher was Byron Stephens, whose parents used to live out near Gurnee. I think there is a brother still living by the name of Andrew. Then the next teacher was Miss Catherine Welch, whose parents lived near Long Lake. I would not be positive, but I think she was the last teacher until after the school house was moved up to the Cribb district. I think the reason why the old log school house was moved was because the districts were changed or reestablished."

Gold Discovered

"It was soon after Mr. Stephens' term expired that the whole country was excited over the discovery of gold in California. It was not long before quite a large party of gold seekers were organized. I think I can remember most of these included in the party—my brother, Martin, Byron Stephens, Mathew Cribb, James Low, Mr. Mathey and his son, Eugene, Mr. Kims, Mr. Farrier, William Harden, and one or two of the Webbs. I well remember the bright spring morning when the cavalcade consisting of quite a good many yokes of oxen and a number of wagons covered with white canvas started for the land of hidden wealth."

(More school reminiscences of Mr. Blunt will appear in an early issue.)
